Dear Mr. Anderson:

I hope things are well with you. I am writing to inform you that as of March 1 I have been reassigned to our company's Osaka branch.

I would like to express my appreciation for the kindness and support you showed me while I was working at our main office. It was a valuable experience being able to work with you. I hope you will continue to allow me the same guidance and encouragement that you have shown me so far.

Accordingly, I am pleased to advise you that as of today, Ken Nakata is taking over responsibility as contact person for your company. I am confident that Ken is well qualified to work with you without difficulty, but at times he may require some help and patience. However, I trust that you will extend to him the same assistance that you so kindly extended to me.
