

Wilson: Hong Kong branch, Project Management, Megan Wilson speaking.

Yokomizo: Hello, Megan. This is Ken Yokomizo from Sales at headquarters. I was wondering how the design of our new restaurant is going.

Wilson: Unfortunately, there's one problem. We're having difficulty with the kitchen design. I'd like to confirm this with you, but is it not possible to change your plans for installing an open kitchen?

Yokomizo: Well, open kitchens are one of the main features of our restaurants. Unfortunately, we can't change our mind about that. What's the problem?

Wilson: The kitchen would be too cramped if we make it an open style. I'm going to send a tentative design plan later, so could you check it?

Yokomizo: All right.

Wilson: The rest is going according to schedule so far, so we should be finished on time.

Yokomizo: That's good to hear. I'll wait for the tentative design plan, then.

Wilson: Thank you. Bye.

Yokomizo: Bye.
